During the city tour, we will explore the monumental granaries and stables built by the Sultan, the Royal Mausoleum located within a beautifully crafted mosque, the grand Bab El Mansour gate, and the vibrant food market. In the afternoon, we will head to the archaeological site of Volubilis, one of the largest Roman colonies in Morocco, renowned for its colorful mosaics and the ruins of Roman monuments such as the Basilica, the Temple, and the Triumphal Arch. Merzouga

Today, our journey will take us south, crossing the fertile plains beyond Fez and the Middle Atlas mountain range, where we will discover a landscape completely different from what we've seen so far. Our first stop will be in the cedar forest, a natural area full of beauty, and in the picturesque town of Ifrane, known for its Swiss-like appearance and nearby ski resort. We will continue our journey through Azrou, a typical Berber town famous for the Barbary monkeys found in the nearby forest. Our next stop will be Midelt, a town at an altitude of 1,500 meters, situated between the High Atlas and Middle Atlas mountains. Once a mining center, it is now known for its apple production and serves as the capital of the region. After a break, we will continue our journey towards Rachidia, a pre-desert city, passing by the tents of nomadic shepherds with their herds of goats and sheep. From Erfoud, we will head towards the stunning sand dunes of Merzouga, where we will experience one of the highlights of our tour: a camel ride through the Sahara Desert. We will admire the sunset in the majestic silence of the desert as we ride the camels to reach our desert camp. The tents are equipped with all the necessary comforts, and a traditional dinner will be served. We will also have the opportunity to enjoy a local musical performance.
